The Farsala Trilogy (formerly released as The Book of Sorahb)

Fantasy

By Hilari Bell

Stories are told of a hero who will come to Farsala's aid when the need is greatest. But for thousands of years the prosperous land of Farsala has felt no such need, as it has enjoyed the peace that comes from being both respected and feared. Now a new enemy approaches Farsala's borders, one that neither fears nor respects its name and legend. But the rulers of Farsala still believe they can beat any opponent. Three young people are less sure of Farsala's invincibility. Jiaan, Soraya and Kavi see Time's Wheel turning, with Farsala headed toward the Flames of Destruction. What they cannot see is how inextricably their lives are linked to Farsala's fate—until it's too late.

Enders Saga

Science Fiction

By Orson Scott Card

The Ender's Saga and its most famous beginning, "Ender's Game," are among the most revered science-fiction series of all-time. Card chronicles the life and time of Ender Wiggin in the first four novels of the "Ender's Saga", and he richly enhanced that universe with his subsequent three-book "Ender's Shadow" series. Ender's Shadow has been dubbed a parallel novel to Ender's Game and it chronicles many of the same events. In fact, the two books tell an almost identical story of brilliant children being trained in the orbiting Battle School to lead humanity's gleets in the final war against alien invaders known as the Buggers. The three books of Ender's Shadow series focuses on Bean, who becomes Ender's lieutenant despite the fact that he is the smallest and youngest of the Battle School students.

Ender's Game:

3. Shadow Puppets (F CAR)
4. Shadow of the Giant (F CAR)

Supplemental Book:

1. First Meetings in the Endersverse (SC CAR)

This is an anthology of four short stories that give even greater insight into Ender's World. Book contains:*

- Ender's Game—the actual original Ender's Game short story written in the mid-1970's and later expanded into the novel everyone knows.
- Polish Boy—Reader learns about Ender's father John Paul Wiggin
- Investment Counselor—20 year-old Ender faces ostracism and loneliness as he travels the planets as a fugitive searching for solace and redemption.
- Teacher's Pest—about the first meeting between Ender's parents.

Thursday Next

Fantasy/Detective Mystery

By Jasper Fforde

A zany, hyper-creative detective series. Anyone who thinks there's really nothing new in fiction hasn't been reading Fforde's wildly inventive, genre-bending Thursday Next series. Next is a detective who inhabits a fantasy-world Britain in which literature is very much alive--so alive, in fact, that it takes a dedicated machinery of justice to keep the plots in order and the characters in place. After rescuing a kidnapped Jane Eyre in The Eyre Affair (2002) and battling an evil multinational corporation seeking to exploit the world of fiction in Lost in a Good Book(2003), Next has beaten a strategic retreat into BookWorld, where as part of the Character Exchange Program, she hides out in an unpublished, by-the-numbers police procedural.

The Obsidian Mountain Trilogy

Fantasy

By Mercedes Lackey

[This From Publishers Weekly]

In the captivating world conjured by veteran Lackey (Exile's Honor) and classical scholar Mallory (Merlin: The Old Magic) in this first of a high fantasy trilogy, there are three types of magic, each of which has its own rules, limits and variables. But it is the Wild Magic-anathema to Armethalieh, "the Golden City of the Bells," and considered by its residents to be heresy and truly evil-that has the most unusual aspects, for its practitioners must bargain for what they need and pay an often high price for power. Kellen Tavaddon, son of Arch-Mage Lycaelon of Armethalieh, has been raised (indoctrinated, actually) to believe that High Magick is the only true magic and that his father and the Council of Mages have the final word.

Jessica Darling

Gossip Lit

By Megan McCafferty

When her best friend, Hope Weaver, moves away from Pineville, New Jersey, hyper-observant sixteen-year-old Jessica Darling is devastated. A fish out of water at school and a stranger at home, Jessica feels more lost than ever now that the only person with whom she could really communicate has gone. Megan McCafferty taps into the inherent humor and drama of the teen experience. This poignant, hilarious novel is sure to appeal to readers who are still going through it, as well as those who are grateful that they don't have to go back and grow up all over again.

Maximum Ride

Mystery/Fantasy

By James Patterson

Maximum Ride is a new book from International best selling author James Patterson. The characters and events in this book, hopefully the first in a series, were inspired by two of his previous titles "The Lake House" and "When The Wind Blows". Max, Fang, Iggy, Nudge, the Gasman, and Angel. Six kids who are pretty normal in most ways - except that they're 98 percent human, 2 percent bird. They grew up in a lab, living like rats in cages, but now they're free. Aside, of course, from the fact that they're prime prey for Erasers - wicked wolf-like creatures with a taste for flying humans.

Hubbard's Point/Black Hall Novels

Romance

By Luanne Rice

A set of novels set in Black, Hall CT, which is loosely based on the town of Old Lyme. Within Black Hall is Hubbard's Point, a beach area inspired by the place where Rice spent summers as a child. The "Hubbard's Point/Black Hall" novels are filled with characters who know each other—some family, some old friends, some meeting for the first time. The novels are separate but connected; something like family stories—everyone has her own perspective and memories, separate while somehow managing to intersect, mirror, conflict, and merge with those of the rest of the family. Although the novels were written to stand alone, here is the order in which they were written:
