Reminders

- 100th Day Celebration. Students are invited to dress like they are 100 years old, decorate a shirt with 100 things, or bring a bag with 100 items! Have fun!
- Feb 7: Quarter 2 Personal Best day Parents are invited that day to visit @ 1:45 PM in your child's classroom.
- Math module 4-6 succeed books will be sent home. Please refer to the homework calendar for homework pages. Please refrain from students working ahead in the book.

Math

During the month of February we will be working through Module 4 of Eureka Math. Students will be focusing on Number Pairs, Addition, and Subtraction to 10. During the 1st half of the month we will be working on compositions and decompositions of numbers 2-8. We will then move into addition and subtraction of numbers to 8. You will hear your child use words like: number bonds, part, whole, take apart, decompose, put together, and compose. Please view the parent resources below to gather more information about the topics we will be learning in this module.

Reading:

In our Skills unit 6, students will continue practicing segmenting, blending, and decoding words with up to 5 sounds. We will add three more tricky words to our tricky word wall, are, I, and little. Students will use their letter-sound knowledge and decoding abilities to independently read decodable student readers. Lastly, students will engage in chaining and dictation exercises with words containing consonant clusters. In Knowledge unit 7, students will begin to learn about the responsibilities, customs, and lifestyles of kings and queens. Students will identify advantages and disadvantages of being royal. Students will identify story elements, write a sentence about a king, and compare their family to a royal family. Towards the end of February, we will begin our next Knowledge domain on seasons and weather.

Health & Social Studies:

In Social Studies, economics will be our area of study and exploration. Students will learn about the many jobs in communities, as well as, the resources, skills, abilities, and knowledge jobs require. Furthermore, students will learn about human, natural, and capital resources. Finally, we will identify and explore goods and services in our community.
